FORT MORGAN.

DESCRIPTION OF FORT MORGAN. The fort is a star-shaped structure with eight bastions, each with a battery. The central area contains barracks and magazines. The fort is situated on a peninsula in Mobile Bay, Alabama. It was built by the United States Army in 1819 and was one of the most important fortifications in the South before the Civil War. The fort was captured by the Union forces in August 1864, during the Mobile Campaign. The capture of Fort Morgan was a significant event in the war, as it opened the Gulf of Mexico to Union shipping and allowed for the blockade of the Confederacy.

FORT GAINES
